

IICA Conducts Executive Development Programme for Canara Bank Executives

The School of Finance, IICA, conducted the second in the series of Executive Development Programmes (EDP) for another batch of 32 executives of Canara Bank from September 8 to 12, 2014.

The programme enhanced the capacity of the participants in strategic decision-making for a quicker and more creative approach in dealing with current competitive strategies and solutions.

The programme helped the participants to gain a better insight into organizational dynamics which lead to the formulation of improved design and implementation mechanisms of new initiatives and help to avoid conflicts.

With the help of the training programme the participants were also able to build team-leadership competencies across functions and to create a plan for the implementation of the key learnings of the EDP in their work sphere.
